MAZDA'S BEST FRIEND

*"FLURRY WAS
THE REAL STAR
OF THE TRIP, I WAS JUST THE DRIVER, THE FIXER, AND THE PHOTOGRAPHER"*

MAZDA'S BEST FRIEND

Remember that famous scene in Forrest Gump when Tom Hanks' character jogs across the entire USA? You probably broke into a sweat at the very thought of such a feat. Well, on September 1, 2014, Sarah Oulton set out on a similar challenge to raise money for charity. The only difference is that Sarah opted for a rosy-red MX-5 instead of a battered pair of running shoes. Oh, and she took her adorable one-eyed dog Flurry along for the ride too.

Starting in their home state of Massachusetts, the duo drove around the 48 contiguous states of America, covering 17,164 miles in just 72 days.

"Flurry was the real star of the trip," explains Sarah. "I was just the driver, the fixer, and the photographer."

Sarah's snaps are set to feature in a book, the proceeds of which will go to three charities. "I'm the luckiest person I know," concedes Sarah. "Driving my Mazda that far with the top down was like being on a never-ending carnival ride."
